Gornitzky & Co. was ranked in the third place among Israeli law firms in "Best Workplaces 2011" by Globes, a prominent Israeli business newspaper. The list is based on a survey in which approximately 18,000 lawyers were asked to rank the most desirable law firms to work for. When asked the reason for their selection, most of the survey respondents replied that the firm's reputation is, by far, the most important factor when considering which law firm to work for.
